

PARADE Of Driving Horses

To Precede Matinee at Fountain Park.

Official Starter Has Been Appointed.

Akron Ball Players Proved Easy Victims.

Ruhlin Receives Attention—Local Sporting News.

Next Friday will be made a red letter occasion by the Akron Driving club. It is proposed to have a parade previous to the regular matinee at Fountain park.

All owners of driving horses are requested to meet at the Empire house at 12:30 o'clock prepared to take part in the parade. It will be headed by a brass band. The line of march will be from the hotel to Fountain park. A meeting to make arrangements for the affair will be held Tuesday evening at the store of Ganyard & Wood. There will be five events on the card Friday afternoon. Dr. L. S. Elbright has been appointed official starter for the club.

SMASHED MADDEN.
Billy Madden had a lively experience the other night down at the Seaside Athletic club, at Coney Island, says Macon. He was refereeing the bout between Kid Carter and George Gardner, and his method of officiating did not suit Carter's brother Jack, who gave his opinion of Madden's judgeship in very plain, unparliamentary language. Madden threatened to put him out of the ring. Young Carter responded by smashing Billy. Then they took a hack at each other. The coppers rushed in and forced Carter out of the ring and the fight proceeded, Gardner finally getting the decision on a foul.

To hear Madden talk about the fight one would think he would be an ideal referee. He certainly has been around and about fighters long enough to know about the fistic game, and yet he doesn't seem to be a model referee. I think Billy shines better as a manager of pugilists than in any other fistic capacity, and he would do well to confine himself to that branch of the sport.

UGHT TO WIN.
There is little that is new to report about the Ruhlin-Fitzsimmons contest.
Fitz's lame hand is getting better rapidly, and he hopes to be able to use it in his sparring bouts by the middle of the coming week. The feeling is growing that Ruhlin has an excellent chance with him, and it looks now as though the short end of the betting would have lots of takers. Ruhlin has youth and strength on his side. How much he has improved in fistic skill is as yet unknown. He certainly ought to have profited by his week's practice with Corbett while Jim was training for Jeffries. I look to see him make a fine showing with Fitz, and if he is able to escape without punishment from Fitz during the first 10 rounds he ought to win the battle.

HAS A CHANCE.
Mike Conley, the Ithaca Giant, formerly Bob Fitzsimmons' sparring partner, thinks that Gus Ruhlin has a great chance to win over Lanky Robert in their coming battle.

"You see, this man Ruhlin is a big, husky fellow," said Conley, the other night. "He has everything in his favor, and being much younger than Fitz, he will stand a great chance of winning. I agree with Corbett when he says that Ruhlin is a greatly improved man, and will give Fitz a surprise. Ruhlin has no doubt gained a world of knowledge about fighting since training with Corbett, and it will all be a good advantage to him when he gets into the ring with Fitz.
Ruhlin fought a draw with Jeffries, and made a very creditable fight. People will tell you that Jeff was a novice when he met Ruhlin. That may all be true enough. What about Ruhlin himself? He was as much a novice as Jeff at that time. I think the public will see a big change in Ruhlin's ring work when he meets Fitz, and wouldn't at all be surprised to see him put out of the business."

Speaking of Ruhlin's chances Corbett recently said: "Gus will naturally be a bit timid starting in against a man of Fitz's calibre, but I know that Ruhlin has developed into a real good man.
If Fitz does not beat him in the early part of the journey, it will not surprise me if Ruhlin wins. It is not a 3-to-1 shot by any manner of means."

BASE BALL NEWS.
The North Ends went to Kent Saturday afternoon to play the team at that place. The Akron players were not in it. They were defeated by a score of 12 to 0. Bob Spade pitched for the Kents.

The Kirkwoods practiced on the college grounds Saturday afternoon.
The regular team of the club will be selected this week.

Two teams from the Diamond Robber company played at Summit Lake park Saturday afternoon. The home room players won the game by a score of 25 to 18.

The Woodmen's ball team has been practicing for some time and is ready to receive challenges from any of the Akron clubs or other out of town clubs desiring a game. Address E. M. Chilcote, care Webster, Camp & Lano Machine company, and challenges will receive prompt attention.

Wanted, experienced tire makers and spicers at once. Only such need apply. Work is sure for three months.

HIS PROPOSAL.
She knew he loved her by each glance, Though he'd not spoken;
His hand's quick pressure in the dance, Each flower and token.
She waited for the story old
Or old song new;
As she had read it,
But thought his eyes the legend told He never said it!

He sang to her in verses sweet,
His accents sweet her;
He placed the hand on her feet,
In rhythm sweet her;
On smooth yachts decks all golden glow,
When starlight blent,
Till she thought him think him slow As well as splendid!

She led him into quiet nooks,
On stairs, demurely,
Where lights were low and tender looks Might pass securely,
And when the hand throbbed some deep hymn
Or old song new;
She steered him gently for the dim Conservatory!

But in a crowded car
One rainy morning
They rode with many a jolt and jar,
The weather coming;
Till swerving round a curve she leaned Against his shoulder,
And safely by his big hat screened "Was then he told her?"

THE MAN WITH A CLAIM.
A Pathetic Figure Who Is Regularly Subbed at Town Meetings.
The most pathetic figure at a town meeting is the man with a claim. The man who has the claim or grievance goes to the selectmen each spring and has them put an article in the warrant bringing this matter up. Some years he goes into town meeting himself and urges his claim. In other years for the sake of variety he will hire some of the local lawyers to present the matter in the best manner possible. Usually the man is listened to, though the whole thing is horribly familiar to every voter in the town.
Then, when all the oratory has been spilled into their ears, some long eared man from the back districts will rise and will draw with a grin:
"Move we pass over that article," and forthwith the article is passed over with a whoop. And the man is around next year as usual. It is a curious thing, but the average town appears always ready to repudiate these claims of long standing. I have heard voters admit that certain claims against their town were perfectly legiti-mate and perhaps ought to be paid, but they are of the caste that regularly vote against granting the appeal of the petitioners.
Why?
Oh, well, it's "an old matter," and the town is irritated by the persistence of the man who keeps coming to claim his own. When a town gets set in that direction, there is no repudiation so heartless and so conscienceless as that which marks its action. You see, the claim is so equally divided. Refusing to pay honest debts is treated as a joke. Even the man who at last with a well earned conscience gets up and urges his fellow citizens to do the right thing and pay the bill is snuffed away as a chap that means well, but doesn't know what he is talking about.—Low-ellton Journal.

OHIO'S WELCOME TO ADMIRAL DEWEY.

How the People of the Buckeye State Will Receive and Entertain the Great Hero of the Salted Seas.

TWO DAYS AND TWO NIGHTS OF FESTIVAL AT COLUMBUS.

In Honor of the Great Event, the Capital City Will Resemble an Eruption of Gay Colors, the Electrical Illuminations Will Be Unusually Extensive and Brilliant, and the Whole Affair Conducted on an Elaborate Scale—An Imposing Parade, a Mammoth and Novel Barbecue, a Colossal Carnival, Public Receptions and a Magnificent Ball Some of the Features Incident to the Reception to the Man From Manila Bay.

Admiral Dewey will visit Ohio on June 6 and 7. He is to be the guest of the enterprising capital city on these dates. The whole state is likely to be there to greet him. The quiet man who demolished things so neatly and quickly on that memorable May day in Manilla bay will be accorded such a welcome as only this great commonwealth can extend. Our people at this opportunity will give vent to their enthusiasm, and express their admiration and esteem for the idol of the American nation in their good old Buckeye way. Since he reached our shores, the great admiral has been recorded ovations outrivalling those ten-

MRS. GEORGE DEWEY.

dered the Roman heroes of old, but none will excel in hearty greeting the reception to be tendered him at Columbus on June 6 and 7.
For weeks the citizens of the Buckeye capital have been perfecting arrangements for the fitting reception of the naval hero and his gifted wife.
Nothing has been left undone, and as the time of Dewey's visit approaches, all is found in a state of preparedness and perfection. Great crowds will swarm into Columbus from all points of the compass, but the arrangements made by the public-spirited citizens of that city insure the safety, comfort and convenience of all. There will be room and a good time for each and every one.

On this occasion everything will be on a splendid scale. The parade will be large and magnificent, the fireworks unusually elaborate, the decorations beautiful and profuse, the illuminations extensive and brilliant, the carnival a source of delight and the barbecue novel and prodigious.

In honor of the coming of the hero of Manilla bay, the city of Columbus is putting on a gala dress such as it has never worn before. A lavish display of colors will greet the eye at every turn. Beautifully decorated public and private structures and miles of residences will charm the beholder by day and reflect resplendently under a myriad of electric illuminations by night.
Every home, humble or pretentious, will unfurl its token of welcome to the admiral. The business section of the city will resemble a scene in fairyland. It will be fairly ablaze with national colors and lights. Miles of the beautiful electric arches which span High and other streets on this occasion will be festooned with bunting, flags, streamers and appropriate devices. At Broad and High streets, in the very heart of the city, is being erected the Dewey arch, which will be adorned in artistic style.

Display of Fireworks.
The display of fireworks will be on a scale probably never before attempted in this state. During the progress of the parade, a world of Japanese pyrotechnics will make a playground of the sky, beautiful and fantastic figures evolving from the thunder of guns. At night the display will be all that human ingenuity can devise. Myriads of hissing and bursting rockets and shells will fill the heavens with comely figures and designs of all colors, shapes and sizes. Among the interesting pieces to be displayed is "The Battle of Manilla Bay." It will be a miniature reproduction of that famous naval conflict. When this piece is in motion the effect will be astonishing to behold. Another feature in fireworks will be a superb counterpart of the flagship Olympia, with all its guns in action. Faces of the admiral and men prominent in public life will be flashed in fire. Old Glory in colors will be shown and all varieties of flowers and plants and one thousand and one devices let loose in the evening air. The whole display will be under the direction of the Dewey fireworks company of Cincinnati.

Two days and two nights of festival are contemplated in the official program for the reception of Admiral and Mrs. Dewey and party. That every visitor may be guided and thus given an opportunity to greet the monarch of the salted seas at some time or turn in the progress of the festivities, let us follow the movements of the distinguished guests during their stay at Columbus, as outlined in the official program:

Exercises will commence on the morning of June 6. A committee will meet the admiral's train east of the city and with him make the run to the Union station. Here the general reception committee will take the party in charge and escort it to the Chittenden hotel. After a brief rest the admiral, attended by the Junia Hussars and a detachment of police, will be driven to the Columbus Driving park, where will be held a colossal barbecue, a description of which is to be found elsewhere in this review. The band stand at the park will be used by the admiral and party to participate in the barbecue and witness the carnival of sports and amusements that follows. Returning, the guests will make a stop at the Deaf and Dumb asylum and be received by the officers and pupils of that institution. In the evening Admiral and Mrs. Dewey will be conducted by the Franklin county ex-soldiers and sailors' societies to the Columbus auditorium, there to participate in the great empire. A splendid program has been arranged for this event.

On Thursday, June 7, at 9:30 a. m., the admiral and wife will be tendered public reception at the state capital.
The Governor George K. Nash will make the welcoming address. Those wishing to attend this reception will pass in at the north door, greet the admiral in the rotunda and pass out by the west and south doors. This event will close promptly at 11:30, when the admiral's party will be driven to the Columbus club for luncheon.

The Parade.
At 2:30 p. m. the great event of the second day, the magnificent parade, will move. Admiral and Mrs. Dewey and the reception committee will occupy the reviewing stand on East Broad street. The pageant will consist of six divisions and be composed of soldiers and sailors of all wars, military and civil organizations, trades and labor unions in bright regalia, and numerous and attractive floats, the whole to be punctuated at easy intervals with celebrated brass bands. It will move in the following order:

Platoons of Police—W. P. Tyler, chief.
Grand marshal and staff.
Ohio National Guard—Brigadier General John C. Speaks, commanding.
First division—Colonel L. B. Potts, commanding; Mexican war veterans in carriages, ex-soldiers and sailors, war of rebellion.
Second division—Colonel A. B. Colt, commanding; Spanish war veterans.
Third division—Major Mooney, commanding; Independent military and university cadets.
Fourth division—Colonel Henry M. Innis, commanding; Uniformed societies.
Fifth division—Frank B. Cameron, commanding; Labor organizations.
Sixth division—R. J. Jeffrey, commanding; Manufacturers' display.
In the evening at 9 o'clock will open the reception and ball at the Hotel Chittenden. This function promises to be one of the most elaborate and distinguished in the history of the state.
Men prominent in public life will attend.
The din and roar of the day, occasioned by the following guns, cheering thousands and the blare of blattant bands, will here give way to the Italian orchestra's dulcet strains, to which the queens of society and gay cavaliers will trip the light fantastic till the wee small hours and pitch dull care to the winds.

Friday morning, the 8th, the admiral and party will be escorted to their train by members of the reception committee and the Columbus Riders.
Visiting members of the press will be royally entertained by their brethren of Columbus. Commodious and

A Lesson in Rudeness.
"Women should not complain that they have to stand in street cars and other public conveyances," said an old gentleman as he laboriously made his way from the transfer man to the herdic. "Children learn common politeness at home if they learn it at all. On the car that I just left was a handsomer dressed woman and her son, a fine looking boy of 10. The car was crowded when I got on, and the little man and his mother sat near the door.
As soon as I entered the boy made a motion to get up, but his mother held him down."

"Mamma, the man is lame," I heard him whisper.
"I don't care if he is. You have paid for your seat and have a right to it," she answered him pettishly.
"The little fellow blushed at his mother's remark. Now, that woman will probably read the riot act to the next man who refrains from giving her a seat in a crowded car, but what can she expect when she teaches her own son to be discourteous to the lame and the halt?"—Washington Star.

TO WARN MARINERS.

The Approach of Storms to Be Signaled Them.

New and Improved Signal Tower with Powerful Light Provided for Use of the Weather Bureau Department.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has just started an important improvement in the weather bureau of great interest to commerce. Realizing the great value of the storm warnings of the weather bureau in the saving of life and property, the secretary directed that careful experiments be made with the view of adopting an improved method of issuing warning signals from marine ports.

With the cooperation of several important manufacturing establishments a new iron storm warning tower has been constructed and adopted by the secretary. This tower, being constructed in weather-proof, can be extended to a greater or less height in accordance with the visual conditions of different ports. Near the top of the tower two powerful lens lamps are located, and above the lamps is the flagstaff from which day signals are to be displayed. The old interior marine lantern, which consumes oil and which has been displayed only from wooden staffs, will be discarded by order of the secretary, and the display of danger warnings more efficiently made by the introduction of the new iron tower.

Congress, in accordance with the recommendations of the secretary, made an appropriation sufficient to equip the bureau during the coming year.
Secretary Wilson has directed the chief of the weather bureau to distribute these new towers as equally as possible between the lake and seaports, as only one-half of the service can be equipped during the coming year.

FACULTY'S BAN ON WEDLOCK.

Divinity Students Holding Scholarships at Chicago University Lose Them If They Marry.

Divinity students at the University of Chicago must no longer allow their fancies to "lightly turn to thoughts of love," whether in the spring or at any other time of the year, if they would retain their scholarships. A rule recently passed by the faculty of the divinity school puts matrimony under the ban. It is as follows:

"In the assignment of scholarships netting more than $34 a quarter the recipient will be informed that the scholarship will be withdrawn in case of his marriage while holding it." The divinity students are indignant at this action, arguing that if they need scholarships when they are single they need them so much the more when their expenses are increased by matrimony.
They regard the rule as an unjust attempt to deprive them of the right of liberty and the pursuit of happiness.
The other day they stood about the formatories and halls discussing the situation with clouded brows and doleful voices.

The faculty members, on the other hand, contend that a student who can afford marriage has no further claim on the university for support and ought to yield his stipend to some one more in need.

LOVE LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS.

Mexican Senorita Liberates Her Sweetheart from a Dungeon at Jlimico.

For love's sweet sake Senorita Maria Gonzales, a beautiful descendant of the house of the Montezumas, aided by her sister, broke open the dungeon at Jlimico, Mexico, the other night and liberated Frank A. Howard, an American conductor on the Mexican Central railway.

Five days before Howard was arrested by the Mexican authorities because a jerk of his train had slightly injured one of the brakemen, a native. He was placed in prison, and while his friends were seeking to secure his trial by the slow and uncertain methods of the Mexican courts a plan of her own for his release. Assisted by a roundhouse employee, she forced the door to Howard's cell with a crowbar, and the American was liberated. He was told to board a train which was waiting for him a block away, and arrived at El Paso, Tex., in safety. He says that the average American prefers liberty at any risk to risking his fate to Mexican laws.

ARSENIC IN GERMAN FABRICS.

Made Evident by Contention Between Germany and Swedish Government.

Arsenic is being used in German fabrics, according to a report from Consul Hughes at Coburg. He says a contention has arisen between German exporters and the Swedish government, the latter claiming there are traces of arsenic in textile material exported from Germany, such as carpets, wall papers, furniture covers and toys.
The German manufacturers claim this is not so. In one way, says Mr. Hughes, this will be a strictly chemical fight, as the Swedish officials will say that their examinations were properly made, and the Germans will insist that if arsenic was found it was due to the use by the Swedish chemists of impure chemicals in making the tests.

A Pathetic Yarn That Will Please
The Truly Romantic.
"It was a wretch of a man who wrecked my life," said the man with the piebald goatie to break a long si-in love with her at first sight. She resided in a small town. I was a farmer, and she was a farmer, and she was a

ON THE ELEVATOR.

Some Funny Things Heard by a Wide Awake Man.
"A funny thing about this business," said a man who runs the elevator in a big office building, "is the way people will sometimes call out whatever happens to be on their minds instead of the number of the floor at which they want to stop. Just a few moments ago a very good looking lady got in the car, and when we were about half way up she called out suddenly:
"Two back teeth."
"What?" said I, a little startled.
"I mean five," she answered, turning red. "Then she saw that made it worse than ever, and she turned red some more."
"I mean please stop at the fifth floor," she managed to say very low when we were nearly to the top. You see, she was on her way to the dentist's maybe to have two back teeth snatched out, and I suppose she couldn't think of anything else.
"The other day a fat, fussy old man rushed in with a bundle of papers in his hand. When we got near the fourth floor, he blurted out:
"Here's a rascal!"
"Very likely," said I and kept on going up.
"Hi, there!" he yelled. "Why don't you stop where I told you?"
"How did I know which floor you meant?" said I. "What you remarked fits the tenants on several floors."
"It turned out that he wanted to see his lawyer. I don't know whether he was thinking about him or somebody he was in litigation with."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Quite the Contrary.

Cholly—The boys are saying you offered yourself to Miss Quickstep and she refused you.
Algy—Offered myself? It isn't true!
I told her that if she was keen to get married I was willing. She said she wasn't, and I said all right—it didn't make much difference anyway. That's all there is in that story.—Chicago Tribune.

Victim of Home Routine.

"You don't need any medicine. Go home and put your heavy clothes on again."
"I can't do it, doctor. My wife's
